Miss Gough, Teacher, Brings Pupils For Educational Hour

GIVEN PAPERS

It was a big day for the pupils of room one, when Miss Gough, their teacher, brought them to the Chronicle Office for an hour with the publishers. It was something they had been anxious to see, a treat, besides being let out of school an hour earlier.

A few minutes were spent in the composing room, where the interested scholars were shown how the paper is all set up by hand, each letter being on the end of a piece of metal, not much thicker than a shingle nail. These are picked out of cases with small compartments and placed into a stick (a square steel case), and from there into a form on a flat stone table, where after the forms are filled, are placed on the bed of the cylinder press. This, however, is only for the purpose of getting a proof of what has been composed, or set, after which it is corrected, the forms again being removed from the press and placed on the stone. The wrong letters are pulled individually from the forms with a pair of extra large, and strong, tweezers, and replaced by the correct letter. Then they are ready for the press, where they are again placed and fastened by a key on the end of the bed of the press. The large, two-horse-power electric motor is turned on and, by a lever on the side, the belt which turns the press is pushed into place and the swing of the press, often called the printer's love song, lulls the spectators into a deep, keen sense of interest. (This is what printers enjoy most of all, as the sound of the press is almost as precious as sweet music.)

Enough of printers sentiment.

Crossfield Organizes Junior Wheat Club

Quite a number of local and district residents turned out to a meeting, held in the Crossfield U.F.A. Hall on the afternoon of Saturday last February 25th, when a Junior Wheat Club was formed, sponsored by the Crossfield and District Board of Trade, under the direction of Mr O. E. Jones, chairman of the Agricultural Committee (continued on page five, see—)

Annual Community Sale This Month

Crossfield's annual community sale will be held some time toward the end of this month, and all those who have any listings are asked to get in touch with T. Tredaway.

Now is the time to sell that bit of furniture or machinery you are not in need of. Watch for further particulars.

Messrs. R. McCaskill and T. Fitzgerald, and Mrs. I. Lewis were Calgary visitors Tuesday next.

Space Provided for all Children to see Grand City Parade

FREE MILK

The meeting called for last Friday, in the Fire Hall, was for the purpose of considering the matter of taking the children of this district to Calgary on the occasion of the visit of Their Majesties, King George and Queen Elizabeth, on May 26th next.

The Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. has arranged with the City of Calgary and the Calgary School Board to provide space for all the children of Southern Alberta to see Their Majesties.

The circular letter in part reads:

"Before they arrive in Calgary, you will be notified as to the school in Calgary to which the children of your District are to be taken. The drivers of the cars will leave the children at the school, and arrangements will be made with the Calgary Branch and other organizations to take care of them. They will be taken to a point in Calgary where they will have an opportunity to see Their Majesties. They will then be taken back to the school and your drivers will be notified of the time at which they can pick them up, to take them home."

We are trying to arrange the parade so as to touch, as near as possible, to the different schools so that the children will not have to long a march to the point of review.

It is suggested that the children themselves, bring their own lunches and the Calgary School Board will provide a bottle of milk for each child at the school."

In addition to the above the C.P.R. has offered to run special trains where a sufficient number of children are going, and they will be taken care of along similar lines as those going by car. A bargain rate of 80 cents return will be in effect on that day, both for the ordinary trains and the specials.

All of 1938, during the first year at the helm of the present publishers, plans were made and advertisers and readers were asked what they thought of an all-home-print Chronicle, but it was not until some eight weeks ago that actual figures and facts were black on white, that planning ceased and sincere thoughts and earnest plans became a reality. The idea of an all-home-print newspaper had often been the main 'office-talk' subject during Mr. McLean's reign as editor and publisher of this paper.

Now our readers can see what goes on 'behind the scenes' in a newspaper office. It required months of planning, but only a few short minutes to 'sign on the dotted line', and then to reveal our plans.

We invite all our readers to read every page of their new paper, and, after considering it, tell us what you think of it. We aim for a bigger and better paper, and solicit the worthy support of all our advertisers and readers. (continued on page four, see—)

CROSSFIELD, THURSDAY, MARCH 2, 1939

New Chronicle.

SINCE 1907 Crossfield has had a newspaper that has done all in its power to keep Crossfield to the fore, and its management has been changed several times, but still the "Chronicle" is published, current news is chronicled and papers are distributed to some four hundred interested readers.

During the time Mr. G. Y. McLean was at the helm, another page was added to give the paper more prominence, induce national advertisers, not forgetting the local business men, who have been the means of keeping a newspaper in Crossfield, to advertise, thus assisting greatly in the paper's maintainance.

For the past month, owing to adjustments on the press and the fact that make-up work and resetting of permanent advertisements to the new measure, it has been necessary for us to exclude the third page, giving us longer weekends in which to make the preparations for our enlarged, eight-page, all home-print "Chronicle."

We feel that the arrangements we have made and our efforts to publish an all-home-print paper in Crossfield will assist further to raise the high standards of our little town, which we intend to boost for as long and determined as our strength prevails. Not only does the new set up add more prominence to the paper itself, but it also places us with publishers of larger towns, giving us a better standing with both the Dominion and Provincial Weekly Newspaper Associations, which brings more business; thus enabling us to continue to publish a paper in Crossfield.

We are endeavouring to raise our suscription list, to send Crossfield news far and wide. It is possible to do so, and spread our little happenings to distant points. So, friends, if you intend to purchase a friend or relative a birthday or anniversary gift, a Chronicle subscription for a whole year (and only $1.50 for 52 copies) would be appreciated; besides letting them know what is being accomplished in your little home town.

We have often heard people say, "Life is what you make it." Now you know the reason for our enlarging a little newspaper that is going to have a future; provided, however, the people of the district wish us to continue. It is our earnest endeavour to please every person who advertises or subscribes, but, as many others, who have the same object in view, we often fail. Still, with renewed energy and courage, even though we often blunder, we want to go forward, finally reaching the mark for which we are aiming. "Aim high, there is plenty of room," still stands, and it is this high mark for which we are aiming.

So, friends, fellow citizens, especially our supporters, we say "Thank you," for the support in the past, and we are going forward, although there is a cost of doing so, but with renewed hope.

Goozles

A gang of boys and girls having a kissing good time, but, it so happened that the kisses were wrapped.

Charlie Russell says that Scotch bread is better than Canadian bread. We maintain that what mother makes is best.

Two Goozles were in the Chronicle Office Monday afternoon, telling us that many people travel the streets of town with unbuckled overshoes.

Some boys broke one of the school windows, and the Goozles are wondering who did it.

Gladys wishing she could have gone to the sleighing party Sunday. What's the attraction?

Jean and Nora tell us that skating on the road is more fun than on the ice. So what?

Gallopin' Lou figures he should be able to knock over a Baby Austin with his bicycle. Maybe, but don't try it!!

"What!! Hiding the girls' mitts? Why Perry!"

The World of Wheat.

By H. G. L. Strange

In 1895 Dr. James W. Robertson, then Commissioner of Agriculture for the Dominion Government, thought that Canadian crops could be improved, and so he donated $100.00 out of his own pocket, to encourage boys to pick out for seed the best heads of wheat and oats from the crops growing on their fathers' farms. The plan was a great success. The boys, and later on their farmers, then became part of a permanent organization.

From this humble beginning sprang the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, and afterwards, too, the Dominion Seed Branch; and the experience gained had much to do with those grain standards later set up for the Canada Grain Act.

In Canada today the expert plant breeders who make new varieties, the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, the Seeds Act, and the Canada Grain Act, all from a remarkable combination, which creates, maintains, certifies and guarantees to the buyers of the world the high quality of Canada's wheat and other grains.

Such a valuable combination does not exist in any other country; and it all sprang from the idea of the late Dr. Robertson and from the small sum of $100.00 which he donated in 1895 for the advancement of Canadian agriculture.

To See Sovereigns At Calgary May 26

We do not believe that the lack of attendance means lack of interest, because as far as we can learn, everybody intends to be there, but it did show that most people have not yet realized that with half the population of Alberta, along with probably thousands of others, all packed into Calgary on that day, it may be mighty nice to have some place to go where the kiddies will at least have a chance to see all there is to see.

Also in regards to the trains, have you stopped to think what the roads are going to be like that day?

What is wanted now is to know how many will be going either by car or by train, and how many would like to take advantage of the space offered at these schools.

Teachers, School Trustees and others interested should canvass their districts, and see to it that every child is at least given the chance to go if they so desire.

The available space in Calgary is being snapped up fast, and if any is to be kept for the Crossfield District it will have to be soon, and it is requested that those wishing to take advantage of the offer, find out the number as soon as possible, and drop a line to The Secretary, Canadian Legion, Crossfield, or phone R-503.

This also applies to those going by train, as the C.P.R. will have to know in good time, so that the necessary arrangements can be made.

Our first new "Chronicle" is at last in your hands. Read it and give us your opinion.

During the past year the number of shareholders has been increased from 98 to 122, with prospects of more in the coming spring. Furthermore, the company has 155 miles of poles and 405 miles of wire on its lines.

The retiring directors were Messrs. A. G. Harnack for the east and J. R. Laut for the west. J. R. Laut was re-elected for the west and J. Scholefield was elected in place of A. G. Harnack, each to serve a term of three years.

We feel that the success of this mutual company is entirely due to the team work shown by the directors of the company and also by the co-operation given by the shareholders.

The end of the first period found the girls on an even "up and up" game with a score of 0-0. In the second period excitement climaxed around the Crossfield goal, where G. Metheral managed to score for the opponents, assisted by H. Lorimer.

Everybody was out to score in the third period. A huddle around the Airdrie goal resulted in a counter for Crossfield scored by A. Gish the assist going to G. Metheral.

With the game a tie and only a few minutes left to play, G. Fletcher went through to shove in the winning goal, unassisted. The players:

RCA Victor Brings Low Cost Radio to Farm Homes

Good news for thousands of Canadians who have always wanted a new radio, as well as thousands who have felt a quality battery radio was beyond their means, is contained in the announcement by Mr. Bannister of RCA Victor's newest and finest offering to a rural radio audience. This new model, 94BT-1, is the lowest priced battery radio ever presented by the RCA Victory Company Limited.

Now on display at the Bannister Electric, the new 94BT-1 is complete in every detail, typical of RCA Victory quality, and sells at the amazingly low price of only $29.95, complete with all batteries.

Mr. Bannister states he believes this revolutionary new and different battery set selling at so low a cost and backed by the most famous name in radio, RCA Victor, will be one of the most popular models he has ever offered.

"Only RCA Victor's tremendous resources," states Mr. Bannister "and engineering skill could have made this great value possible. RCA Victor engineers" he says, "have created a new circuit to secure the best results from the new 1.4 drain tube and the 1 1-2 volt battery. In simple and nontechnical language," Mr. Bannister explains, "this means the new RCA Victor radio uses much less battery current and costs far less to operate than any other battery set yet offered to the public."

"Beautiful in appearance, the RCA Victor 94BT-1 has a cabinet of fine walnut veneers particularly appealing to the women folk. Its distinctive appearance sets an entirely new style in radio cabinet design."

Mr. Bannister invites you to visit his store right away and hear this new set. Tune it in yourself and listen to its superb tone and power, the ease with which you can bring in distant stations, clear, crisp, with ample volume and with amazing sharpness of tone.

What Form Of Farm Aid?

Farmers do not seem to be greatly surprised to learn that the Dominion government will abandon the pegged price system which has cost Canadian taxpayers 48,000,000 and still has not touched those who most need help. Although eastern Canada cannot fairly protest such aid to western wheat growers, there is point to the argument that wheat is only one of the primary products deserving assistance. It is recognized also by farmers that the large wheat producers, some of them not even residents of Canada, benefited out of proportion to the small farmer on the pegged price.

The minimum price of 1938, was a temporary measure, and certainly was not overgenerous from the standpoint of the farmer. It is recognized that it is no solution, and might prove so costly as to be quite out of the question.

—VULCAN ADVOCATE.

The Provincial Debt of Alberta.

The following figures taken from the Public Accounts of the Province for the years mentioned, will show to what extent the debt of Alberta has grown, and the rate of increase, under the several Governments which Alberta has had up to the present time.

| Year | Amount of Debt | Average yearly Increase |
|--------------------|----------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1905 | nil | |
| 1921 | $ 61,665,000.00 | 3,853,000.00 |
| Year Ending | | |
| Mar. 31, 1931 | $ 117,070,000.00 | $ 5,500,000.00 |
| Mar. 31, 1935 | 150,609,000.00 (6 mos.) | 8,400,000.00 |
| Aug. 31, 1935 | 153,923,027.00 (6 mos.) | 6,428,054.00 |
| Mar. 31, 1936 | 158,081,000.00 | 7,472,000.00 |
| Mar. 31, 1937 | 158,731,000.00 | 650,000.00 |
| Mar. 31, 1938 | 157,015,000.00 | Decrease 1,716,000.00 |
| Aug. 31, 1938 | 156,217,570.00 | 797,000.00 |

Thus we see that for the first thirty years of provincial autonomy the provincial debt increased at the average of over $5,000,000 per year. During the last four years under the Government of the United Farmers of Alberta, the debt increased $33,539,000, while for the first three years under the present Aberhart administration the debt increased for those (3) three years was only $2,294,543.00 — or an average yearly increase of only $764.847.00 or less than $1.00 per capita.

Had our debt increased continued as it did from 1931 to 1935 until the present time, it would now amount to over $180,000,000.00 on which the interest would be approximately another $9,000,000.00 yearly — Why do we never hear any mention made of this enormous saving of the taxpayers monies. ??

Is it possible that our people have overlooked one very important point in governmental economy?

But possibly the present Alberta Government is also very extravagant, — Who can say. ??

The following figures taken from the Public Accounts for Alberta for the years indicated may prove of interest to our readers.—Let us consider the Expenditures of the governments as set out in the following chart:

| Particulars | 1921 | 1931 | 1935 | 1938 |
|-----------------------|---------------|---------------|---------------|---------------|
| Debt Charges | $ 1,939,635 | $ 5,782,068 | $ 7,137,838 | $ 3,961,011 |
| Education | $ 2,549,850 | $ 3,043,714 | $ 2,285,350 | $ 2,548,391 |
| Legislation | $ 511,826 | $ 396,690 | $ 203,714 | $ 232,993 |
| General Governments | $ 1,316,570 | $ 1,333,876 | $ 1,451,236 | $ 1,772,414 |
| Miscellaneous | $ 24,506 | $ 38,699 | $ 30,265 | $ 40,541 |
| Dept. of Justice | $ 1,264,220 | $ 1,254,773 | $ 768,069 | $ 783,885 |
| Dept. Agriculture | $ 499,743 | $ 809,878 | $ 401,554 | $ 428,625 |
| Research work etc. | $ 125,171 | $ 412,025 | $ 484,334 | $ 446,215 |
| Welfare relief etc. | $ 1,368,123 | $ 3,300,651 | $ 3,831,873 | $ 9,761,884 |
| Highways Bridges etc. | $ 838,702 | $ 1,556,867 | $ 798,587 | $ 1,336,618 |
| Refunds | $ 166,810 | $ 88,302 | $ 43,501 | $ 47,158 |
| Total | $ 10,605,156 | $ 18,017,543 | $ 17,435,821 | $ 21,359,739 |

There are two outstanding items of expenditure showing for each year, namely debt charges, and welfare relief, and these two constituted over 65pc. of the total expenditures in 1938. Let us deduct these items from the total for each year, in order to learn what amounts would be left to carry on the other departments of government as follows:

$ 3,307,758 $ 9,082,719 $ 10,969,211 $ 13,722,895
leaving a balance $ 7,397,398 $ 8,934,824 $ 6,466,610 $ 7,636,844

Please note that this balance has not varied to any extent, even though the population of Alberta has increased from 1921 - (588,454) — 1931 - (731,000) — 1935 - (767,000) — 1937 - (772,745). Therefore any saving expenditure we may desire to make, which will amount to any material gain to the taxpayers must of necessity be made on those two items.

Do you think this can be done, and if so what steps should be taken to make such savings possible?

If no reduction can be made in these two items, and if they continue to increase yearly, where can any material saving be made in the expenditures which now amounts to $27.64 per capita, and steadily increasing. What must be done?

Children's Big Day.

The papers are placed into place against what are called grippers, which hold the sheets in place while the motion of the press causes them to turn around the cylinder, under which the forms of type pass, thus, the pressure of the cylinder, against the forms, between which the sheet has been drawn, causes the type to print on the sheet. The continual motion of the press brings the sheet out at the back of the press, onto flyers, which turn over just at the correct time placing the printed paper in front of one who sees that the ink is working right, also watching to see that the papers come out straight, so as to enable the folders to accomplish more in a short time.

These forms we mentioned in the previous paragraph are inked by rubber rollers, which receive their ink from a steel roller that is placed into a duct, or trough, in which it turns, inking the rubber rollers each turn of the press.

The children enjoyed their stay with the publishers, who're very glad to have any one call in for a visit. They were each given a "hot-off-the-press" Chronicle to take home to show their parents where they had spent an educational and most enjoyable hour.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Re Provincial Treasury Branch

Dear Editor:

As a treasury branch agency is to be opened here in the near future, a few remarks on this may be in order. The treasury branch Interim Programme is a straight forward business proposition. It will:

(a) Increase the purchasing power of the consuming public.

(b) Create a demand for Alberta made goods.

(c) Assist in establishing Alberta Industries.

(d) Advance the welfare of the people of their province.

Now surely none can say that they do not support the above mentioned advantages. They may, however, want to know how these things can be accomplished with the Interim Programme.

First there is offered to those who do business with transfer voucher a 3% bonus on all purchases made with vouchers providing one third or more of the purchases are of Alberta made goods. This offers a worthwhile inducement to purchase goods produced within the province, which naturally creates a demand for more goods made in Alberta, thereby giving employment to more Alberta workers. With purchasing power increased and more workers employed the home market is naturally improved which must work to the advantage of the people as a whole.

However, it may be considered that 3% doesn't amount to much, for instance, if a person spent $30.00 per month and $10.00 was for the purchase of Alberta goods, the 3% bonus would be 90 cents to some that may not be much, but 90 cents will purchase several extra quarts of milk, buy three dozen oranges or a lot of things that quite a number of people could use to advantage. However, that is not the only way that this benefit is obtained; it has been stated by noted statitons that a dollar turns over 15 times in a year. Well, if the dollar turns over once in Alberta and 14 times in Ontario or Quebec, it won't help much, will it? But, if the dollar can be kept here to work in Alberta, it will help a lot, and this can be done by using transfer vouchers. Of course, some may say that a dollar doesn't do that much work. Well if it doesn't, this is all the more reason why purchasing power should be increased, because there is no shortage of goods and there is ample capacity to produce more. I do not wish to take up too much of your space, although much more can be said in connection with the Treasury Branch. Some people are of the opinion, (and I might say I am one of them) who feel that a Branch, instead of an agency, should be opened in Crossfield, so I'll tell you how to get the Branch. Flood the agency with business, and, as soon as business warrants, out

Men's Dominion Ski Championships at Fort William

The best skiers of Canada will meet stiff international competition when the Men's Dominion Ski Championships are contested at Fort William, Ont., from February 24 to 26.

The Lakehead city has everything in its favor in its efforts to sponsor the most successful Dominion championships in the history of the sport in Canada. Not only is the terrain suitable for a meet of such high calibre, but skiing this year has reached a new peak of popularity and enthusiasm in Fort William is intense.

The contests will be held on Mount McKay, towering more than 4,000 feet above the city. Many trails have been cut on the forested northern slopes where there are good conditions throughout the winter and improvements in trails and competitive facilities make them of championship calibre.

The 4,700-foot downhill run from the top of Mount McKay is a descent of more than 1,000 feet in less than a mile and provides thrills aplenty for contestants as well as spectators. There is a 50-metre F.I.S. standard jump and a 500-foot slalom course where the continent's ski stars will compete.

The mountain, which is within easy reach of the city, has many nursery and practice slopes in addition to more than 25 miles of mountain bush trails. Canada's only electrically operated ski tow will be in operation from the clubhouse to a 500-foot level. Rupe Edwards, Banff skier who has held many championships, is the club's coach. Edwards is seen executing a perfect gelande-sprung in the above layout.

The picture also shows the greatly improved jump where champions of many competitors will try to better the present Canadian record. The young lady in the lower right corner of the pictures above is Miss Elizabeth Paterson, of Fort William, who will be one of the hosts during the competitions. Other skiers are seen toiling up the ski tow.

King George VI

A HISTORY IN THIRTY CHAPTERS

CHAPTER TWELVE

"No personal consideration should stand in the way of performing a public duty."

—Ulysses S. Grant

When the shadow of the World War no longer shrouded the life of young Prince Albert, he did not return to a life of ease and rest which he had earned richly. Just as soon as the world-storm swept across the horizon, he was one of the first to offer their services to their country, refusing to accept any recognition of his privileged position as son of the King. He remained in the service of the Royal Navy or the Royal Air Force throughout the whole period when Great Britain fought for the preservation of democracy and the progress of civilization. He was an active member of the crew of the Collingwood when that big battleship was engaged in the great naval battle of Jutland. He came face to face to all the horrors of war, although any other citizen who had such a painful illness would have been excused readily from any participation in the conflict. However, every historian will have to record that young Prince Albert was an exceptionally brave young man who preferred to live through this history-making episode of the world rather than merely learn about it from history books.

This indicates a strong characteristic of the present King. From the early days of his childhood when he preferred to participate in games rather than stand by as a mere spectator to the time when he preferred to face the realities of the war rather than enjoy the security and pleasant surroundings of a Royal Palace, there is a definite sign that King George the Sixth looks upon his duties and responsibilities to the people as of foremost importance, regardless what personal dangers and privations such obligations may involve. Consequently, when the war ended he did not leave the active service for many months, attending to numerous duties that were obligatory in order to disband and undo the huge fighting forces that have been organized. He worked day and night in various departments of the Governmental Services wherein he gained an intimate knowledge of various conditions, spending over a month in the Air Ministry alone. It was a valuable experience, especially in view of the fact that the young Prince was destined to become the King.

When demobilization had been completed, many young men who had been at schools or colleges at the outbreak of hostilities or during the war were assisted by the authorities in order that they should return to complete their studies. Prince Albert decided to go on with his studies at Cambridge, and in 1919, he accompanied his brother Prince Henry, the Duke of Gloucester, to that famous institution of learning, where he lived the quiet and traditional existence of an undergraduate who was trying to forget some of the unpleasant memories of the horrors of war.

Obituary.ROBERT ARNOTT

Funeral services for the late Robert Arnott were held last Thursday from the United Church. The large number present showed the high esteem in which Mr. Arnott was held, many coming from Calgary and the surrounding district. Among the pall bearers were two of his old school chums, Messrs. Clark, retired bank manager of Calgary, and Sterling, Engineer of Edmonton.

Mr. Arnott was born at Kirkintilloch, Scotland, and lived for some years on the family farm near Kilsyth. In 1905 he emigrated to Canada, arriving in the Crossfield district in 1906, where he has resided ever since. Not long after his arrival, he married Ruth Oldaker, of the Crossfield District.

He is survived by his wife, a son and daughter at home on the farm and by two brothers on the old farm at Kilsyth, Scotland, and a number of nephews and nieces. —Contributed

In 1937, 11,961 Canadians died from cancer, i.e., about 1000 a month. One out of every nine deaths each year is due to cancer.

To aid in co-ordinating and co-relating the efforts of individuals and organized bodies to reduce the mortality from cancer in Canada, the Alberta branch of the Canadian Society of the control of cancer will hold a public meeting in the U.F.A. hall; the date to be announced later. Speakers will be a doctor and a layman from Calgary.

Wedding Bells

AASKOW—CAMERON

Malthe Willadsen, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Aaskow, of Madden, was united in marriage to Nancy Jessie, youngest daughter of Mr. Kenneth Cameron, of Cremona, at the United Church, Crossfield, by Rev. Stanley R. Hunt, B.A., B.D., at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 28th. The happy couple were attended by John and Anne Aaskow, brother and sister of the groom. The bride, leaning upon the arm of her father, came up the aisle of the church to the strains of Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" played by Mrs. Hunt. The bride's gown was of white satin, lace-trimmed; she wore a trailing bridal veil fastened with orange blossoms and carried pink butterfly roses. The bridesmaid wore light blue silk net over taffeta, trimmed with pink satin and carried pink carnations. After reading the lines, Mr. Hunt sang, "O Happy Home."

Following the congratulations of a large number of relatives and friends, the popular couple left the church to the playing of Mandelsohn's "Wedding March," to the Oliver Cafe, where a reception was held.

They will shortly be at home to their friends, at their residence at Madden. —Contributed.
